Kohler Credit Union Raises Over $5,300 for Children's Hospital

KOHLER, Wis.— Through its Chain of Hearts campaign for Children's Miracle Network in February, Kohler Credit Union raised over $5,300. The money raised will support Children's Hospital of Wisconsin, one of more than 170 Children's Miracle Network-affiliated hospitals across the United States and Canada.

The campaign raised funds through the sale of links; soup, bake and chili sales; and other employee sponsored events. The links that were sold included the names of credit union members and their loved ones remembered in a special way for the Valentine season.

Kohler Credit Union thanks their member-owners for their generosity in contributing to the fundraising activities during the campaign. The success of the campaign was largely due to their support.

Kohler Credit Union's Chain of Hearts is part of a statewide fundraising effort of more than 300 credit unions. Nationwide, credit unions and their trade associations raise more than $5.5 million each year in support of the charity. Children's Miracle Network hospitals serve families regardless of their ability to pay and treat children with various health problems.
